MESSAGE

The NSS Academy of Civil Services (NACS) is the newest addition to the galaxy of institutions set up by the Nair Service Society, which is synonymous with selfless service and social commitment, founded by the late Sri. Mannathu Padmanabhan. This new venture is in recognition of the need to provide high class training to Civil Services aspirants in the state. At present, Kerala does not get its fair share of the available positions in the highest services of the country, because our aspirants do not have adequate facilities to prepare themselves for the tough competition they have to face. I am sure that NACS will be able to offer the best facilities and training to those who join it.

The NACS has been designed and planned by a group of senior civil servants, professors and educationists and established by the experienced administrators of the NSS. With its state of the art facilities, an eminent faculty and efficient supporting staff, it will match any Academy of this kind in India.

I hope that the young people of Kerala will make the best use of NACS and secure high positions in the forthcoming Civil Services Examinations.

With warm regards,

G. Sukumaran Nair
General Secretary
Nair Service Society

Message From T.P.Sreenivasan IFS,

I am delighted to be associated with the planning and establishment of the NSS Academy of Civil Services (NACS). It will undoubtedly be an institution of excellence in the area of preparing our youth to compete for the highest services in the country. Some of the best minds of Kerala will come together at NACS to offer the best guidance to the aspirants to the Civil Services.

NSS has an exceptional record of creating institutions, which are required for Kerala at different stages of its development. It is a tribute to the wisdom, vision, foresight and sense of service of Shri. Mannath Padmanabhan that we have a host of educational institutions, which have met the educational needs of the state.

NACS is the latest in the educational ventures of the NSS, inspired by the same vision. The present leadership recognized the need to have a national level Academy for Civil Services so that our young men and women can get the training necessary in Kerala itself to be successful at the national level. We have put together the necessary infrastructure, the ablest trainers and teachers and a healthy and disciplined environment. When the doors open in July 2012, it will be an institution that the whole nation can be proud of.

The Civil Services examination has transformed bright young people from different strata of society into diplomats and administrators. Like a magic wand that turns an ordinary bird into a peacock, success in the examination takes each one to a higher level of activity, service and life style. For this reason, young people prefer the Civil Services to more lucrative private sector jobs. No other Service will give the sense of satisfaction and excitement as the Central Services. The key to success is in identifying the potential of each aspirant, guiding him or her through the maze of information and providing the necessary skills for competition. We are committed to do these with dedication, hard work and a sense of purpose.

While welcoming the first batch of aspirants to NACS, I promise them the best of facilities, the best of teachers, the best of technicians and the best of opportunities will be available at NACS

T.P.Sreenivasan IFS,
Hon. Director, NACS
